COLLEGE STATION, April 16.—Mrs. B. Hetty Curry of Bryan, chairman of the nominating committee soon after 4 o'clock. Mrs. F. M. Thwing of Waco was nominated first vice president and Mrs. J. L. Porter of Caldwell second vice president. No opposing candidates were offered from the floor and the secretary was instructed on motion to cast a unanimous vote for the nominees of the committee. The new president was then asked for her appointee of secretary-treasurer and Mrs. Clark was named. A motion by Mrs. Curry to ratify the appointment was passed without dissent and carried. LITTLE DAUGHTER OF MR. AND MRS. COX DIED ON LAST NIGHT

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Cox have the sincere sympathy of their many friends in the loss of their precious baby girl, Dorothy Polk Cox, aged 6 months, whose death occurred at the family home on East 29th street in this city, Wednesday night. The babe has been quite seriously ill for the past week, and although medical skill and tender nursing was given continuously, the disease could not be stayed, and the little life went out at the time above stated. Friends would offer comfort, but in an hour of such grief words are empty, and human sympathy fails. Only the Great Comforter can give to the broken hearts, "beauty for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness." The funeral was held this afternoon from the family home at 5 o'clock, with E. F. Parks Company in charge of arrangements. Interment was made in the Bryan cemetery.

Dr. Ball went to the University to fill a reciprocal agreement to exchange speakers with the Science Seminar. President W. M. W. Spahn was sent to the A. and M. College recently.

BRITISH DIRIGIBLE SWEEP FROM MOORING MAST IN A HEAVY GALE

One of the Highest Winds Experienced by Britain in Many Months Tore R-33 from Mast with 20 Men on Board—Vessel slowly making way back to Pelham with light head-winds against her.

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, April 16.—The British Dirigible R-33, sister ship of the R-34, which was the first lighter than air craft to cross the Atlantic this afternoon was slowly making her way against head winds towards her mooring mast at Pulham from which she broke loose this morning in one of the heaviest gales that has swept England in months. Twenty men were aboard and kept her under control despite the fact that the big ship's nose dragged when it tore away from the mooring mast. With the wind gradually subsiding, fear of serious accident was lessened and it was hoped the ship would be able to moor again late today.

ONLY FOUR ABSENT AT LIONS MEET TUESDAY

The Bryan Lions Club is going well in the big attendance contest, but President C. A. Searcy is hoping for even better records as the weeks go by. Only four were absent from the total membership and there were 27 Lions on hand for the regular Tuesday noon luncheon at the Episcopal parish dining room.

The fore part of the meeting was devoted to business session, following the singing of songs and the consumption of the excellent repast. President Searcy and Lion Miller, the latter the chairman of the committee on the Easter egg hunt, each in turn thanked all those who so ably assisted in carrying the program through to a successful end, and paid tribute to all where deserved. Lion Miller said that not one had refused to perform any task asked of him.

District Meeting.
President Searcy called attention to the district meeting which will be held on Monday and Tuesday at Brownwood and asked for a large delegation to go from Bryan, adding that he would take his car and three members of the club.

A communication from Kurten in regard to the school play to be given on next Friday night and asking the attendance of the Lions, was read. A committee was appointed to look after this, with Lion Armstrong as chairman. Lion Parks said he would go and take a carload and other intimates they would attend. Minutes of the last meeting were read by Lion Edge and approved.

Lion Spence introduced his visitor, Byron Bird, of College Station, and new names for members were submitted to the club. Then Lion Armstrong announced that those wishing to go to Kurten on Friday night would gather in cars or on foot at the First State Bank corner that night, ready to go. A way would be furnished by those who brought cars.

Then R. L. Brown and W. W. Chambers took turns in introducing the speaker of the day, Colonel Ike S. Ashburn, of the A. & M. Ex-Students' Association, who gave a most interesting talk on war stories. He prefaced his story with short humorous bits that put every one in good humor. He then launched into a most romantic tale, spiced with a girl woven in, and a story of intrigue and international spy work and diplomacy that would have done credit to E. Phillips Oppenheim. He told the story as having participated in it himself. At the close he told of having others awaken him from a most delightful dream or fantasy.

Those present were: M. M. Erskine, W. E. Nealey, M. F. Vitopil, M. E. Cox, Byron Bird, E. V. Spence, J. Bryan Miller, J. M. Ferguson, J. Coulter Smith, R. E. Bosque, T. H. Thomsen, Mrs. E. V. Patronella, C. A. Searcy, Ike S. Ashburn, R. L. Brown, Willard Chambers and H. D. Cuykendall.

BRYAN PRICES LOWER

We often hear about cases where people have gone out of town to buy and gotten something "just about half what we could have gotten it for in Bryan." That's almost a trite remark and should be discounted for just about as much as many of the exaggerations we hear from day to day. But the contrary case is often true, and we don't hear about that so much.

A gentleman from this community, one of a physique not ordinary, called at a local store for a formal dress suit. The store did not happen to have one in the proper size and the gentleman needed it for the following day. A telephone order to Houston brought the suit. This was service.

But the price, in toto, was something over $8 more than the local store charged for the same brand of goods, the same quality of material and the same good tailoring. This was absolutely correct as the number on the Houston suit was the same as the number of the Bryan suit.

There is an instance of where Bryan people can buy cheaper here than at larger cities—whether they believe it or not. The Eagle has the same of the store and the name of the man who put in the order. The story can be verified.

Let's discount rash stories, especially when they discount our town and our town's citizens.

OPEN HOUSE HELD AT NEW PARK'S JEWELRY STORE FRIDAY NIGHT

In response to 500 invitations sent out, hundreds of people thronged the new Park's Jewelry Store on Friday night between the hours of 7 and 10 o'clock. They were greeted with an entirely new scheme of interior arrangement. New fixtures had been added in the store and the ones that had been in use, refinished and made to look new and attractive. The walls had been refinished and the whole store presented a dress-up appearance with its romantic but subdued light from the electric bulb beneath the decorative parchment shades.

Electrically Equipped.
Two new cases held articles in the gift line and accessories for parties and social occasions. On the glass show cases were potted plants and cut flowers, tastefully arranged. Included in the flowers were pink carnations, Easter lilies, ferns and sweet peas.

In the rear of the store is the repair department which has been electrically equipped throughout with the addition of electric motors, devices for soldering and other pieces of electric equipment. Over the repair shop, on the mezzanine floor, which has just been constructed and fitted up, is the offices of the store, where the proprietor's desk is the central piece of furniture with other furniture for the stenographic and bookkeeping departments.

RECEIVING COMMITTEE

The friends of the store who came to the open house were ushered through the store and shown the new place of business throughout. Then they were served plates of ice cream and wafers, plates being furnished with sweet peas as souvenirs. Assisting the host and hostess were Mr. and Mrs. J. T. S. Park, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Howell, Mr. and Mrs. J. Webb Howell, Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Park, Mrs. Rob Roberts, Mrs. W. J. Roberts, Mrs. Roy Danforth and Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Higgs. Three misses also were in the serving party, beautifully dressed in green, georgette, Ida Belle Higgs, Lella Law Davis and Dorothy Doane. All of the reception and receiving committee wore corsages of sweet peas, presented by the hosts.

The visitors to the store last night and others who came in large numbers today, wished for the new store and its proprietors, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. S. Park, every success.

DIG W. O. W. MEETING HELD ON FRIDAY NIGHT

A joint meeting of the W. O. W. and Woodmen Circle was held at the Woodman Hall on Friday night. After the regular order of business by the Brazos Commandery No. 104, the doors were thrown open and the ladies of the Circle were invited in. After listening to able and interesting reports from the delegates of the Bryan lodge to the State convention at San Antonio, the crowd sang some fraternal songs with Miss Macy Goen at the piano.

Following a recess refreshment of cake and delicious punch was served. A large and beautiful cake was auctioned off by the ladies. The auction was under the arrangement of Mrs. Jno. W. Hamilton, Mrs. Willie Johnson, Mrs. Charles Holmes, Mrs. Leona Simpson, and others. J. T. Maloney made an excellent auctioneer. When all the bids were over the cake went to Pete Bonano who gave it back and it was resold, netting the ladies of the Circle the nice sum of $50.

DALLAS PARTY VISITS LOCAL FARMS ON GOOD WILL ACQUAINTANCE TOUR

Representatives of Business Houses in Dallas Were in Bryan Today on Last Leg of Week's Visit to Towns in North and East Texas—Have Visited at Eight Towns Some Twelve or Fifteen More.

The Dallas Chamber of Commerce annual Good Will Tour attracted much interest in Bryan this morning on the occasion of their visit here. The train was about 15 or 20 minutes late because of an extraneous stop at College where the Aggie band met the visitors and cars were provided for taking the representatives of the party on a tour of inspection of the College Campus, grounds and buildings. As soon as the train stopped at the platform in Bryan the entire party of about 125 people detrained and led by the 30-piece brass band, marched down Bryan's Main Street and a short concert was played at the 26th street corner. Then the members of the party, representing the business firms of Dallas, scattered to business houses of Bryan to meet the heads and managers of stores and get acquainted. Souvenirs were distributed to men, women and children about the streets.

"The representatives of the Good Will Tour were very anxious to get to Bryan and to make a good impression on your city," said Wilbur S. Shaw of the Dallas Times-Herald, who made the trip as a representative of that publication. He said the train had left Dallas a week ago Tuesday morning and first went to Gainesville, and other points in North Texas, thence to Texarkana on the East border and South to Beaumont and Galveston. The train left Galveston this morning and after but a brief stop at Houston wended its way northward. The train consists of 14 coaches or cars, 8 of which are Pullmans, one drawing room, two baggage cars, the rest being day coaches. The train has a barber shop and bathroom for the convenience of those on the trip. "We have been over about 1,225 miles of territory," said Mr. Shaw, "and are certainly tired out and glad that we are nearly at our journey's end. We will reach Dallas tomorrow morning, closing a week of travel and toil."

G. L. BEASON SAYS EAST TEXAS CROP PROSPECTS FINE

County Agent C. L. Beason returned from a trip to East Texas to visit his farm in Panola county and to look over crop conditions in that section. He left here Sunday by car and found good roads all the way. He states that the farmers in that part of Texas are delighted with the prospects for a bountiful crop this year. While not a single day has been missed on account of rain, at the same time they have had plenty to make conditions ideal. Gardens there, said the county agent, look like a veritable paradise.

M. J. Whitfield, a prominent merchant and farmer of Beckville, showed the county agent his garden, one of the finest seen on the whole trip. The turnip tops measured 22 inches across. They were planted on January 6th. Other vegetables were in proportion. Mr. Whitfield claims to be an agricultural demonstrator of living products. Mr. Beason took a photograph of this wonderful picture garden.

John A. Crawford, leading merchant of Beckville, states that the crop prospects were never better in that part of the state. He believes that the East Texas farmers are beginning to realize as never before the wonderful possibilities of that section, made so through scientific farming and intelligent business management. The strip of prosperous country runs northward from Beaumont through Harrison county and perhaps farther. It is dry in other places through which Mr. Beason passed, however, he said upon his return to Brazos county.

YOUNG BRYAN MISS IS RECIPIENT $50 PRIZE

Mary Denver Murphy, aged 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Murphy, who make their home at the C. G. Walker apartments, was made joyful today by the receipt on this morning's mail of a check for $50, won by having submitted the first prize essay on "Why It Pays to Buy from Brooks-Mayes & Co., of Houston, Texas." She sent the essay in about the middle or latter part of March and the first word she hears from them as a result of her entry is the check today. The fact that the girl is a resident of Bryan makes the story interesting to us, but that she is but 11 years of age, is even more commendable.

HEARNE RESIDENT SHOT BY NEGRO—BROUGHT TO BRYAN HOSPITAL TODAY

B. D. LEE IS FINED FOR GAMING LAST MONDAY

B. D. Lee, charged with gaming, was tried before Justice J. W. Hamilton on Monday afternoon and fined $20 and costs, the total ranging in the neighborhood of $50. Lee was the first of five men to be tried on a similar charge. County Attorney Oak McKenzie prosecuted and Lamar Betha acted for the defense. It was a jury case. The case grew out of a raid made by officers a week ago Sunday on a house on the Fin-Father, Club road, near the home of City Secretary Guy P. Bittle.

BRYAN WOMAN SELLS HOUSES IN CALDWELL

A real estate deal of considerable size was consummated last week when J. W. Harvey & Son purchased the two brick buildings on Echols street occupied by J. Louis Giddings and Ben Sullivan from Mrs. Tom Ewing of Bryan, and Mrs. Ewing in the deal becomes owner of a farm in the Prairieville community formerly owned by Harvey & Son. The Harveys in conversation with the Ledger man said the property was bought as an investment and no immediate plans contemplated besides those needed by the parties occupying the buildings. —Burlison County Ledger.

MCCULLOCH FORD COUPE AND DRIVER ARRESTED AT EL DORADO, ARKANSAS

"We have car and H. H. Long but will deliver him and car to you upon payment of reasonable reward." The foregoing is the text of a telegram received by Sheriff Jess Conlee from Sheriff Perry F. Nelson at El Dorado, Arkansas. Sheriff Conlee located the driver of the stolen W. L. McCulloch Ford coupe as having left Liberty, Texas, for the Smackover Oil Field on Thursday, a week ago. But a trip to Corsicana and Wortham was necessary to corroborate the report and when he found that his information was correct, he wired the sheriff at El Dorado and asked him to pick up the car and if possible the driver. A letter arrived today, following upon the heels of the telegram above quoted and the sheriff stated that he had picked up the car and Long on the 8th, two days before Sheriff Conlee's telegram had reached El Dorado. Sheriff Conlee has concluded successfully a long chase after this car from the Mexico and Corsicana fields, across Texas and into Arkansas.

LARGEST GASPER GOULD EVER CAUGHT IN THIS SECTION WEIGHED 25 POUNDS

A fishing party consisting of Joe Noto, C. G. Walker and Frank Schepert spent Thursday night on the Navasot and returned to Bryan Friday morning with nearly 100 pounds of fish. Among the number was a gasper gould that weighed 25 pounds, the largest fish of its kind ever caught on a hook in this section and one of the largest ever seen here.

Ice Plant Opens Thursday

Thursday will be the formal opening for another new Bryan institution when the ice plant of the Stephan Ice and Bottling Company, owned by George Stephan and Judge H. O. Ferguson, will be ready to serve the public of Bryan and vicinity with their needs in ice. The plant, under the supervision of the two owners, was completed in the short space of time of less than four months and it usually takes from seven or eight months to install a plant of this kind. It had been said by some that the plant could not be ready for operation in such a short time, but a Eagle reporter visited the plant yesterday and found everything ready for the opening and the plant in full operation then.

The institution represents a total cost of around $70,000 and is an asset to the city from many standpoints. The plant is centrally located in the business district offering great convenience to those who wish to buy ice at the plant. The ice is made from "fresh" water, commonly termed "raw" water, from which ice can be made at less cost than from distilled water. The plant is electrically equipped throughout, and has 12 motors ranging in size from one-half to 60 horse power.

Begins At the Well.

The reporter found W. R. Utley of Houston, of the York Manufacturing and Supply Company, on the job superintending the installation and getting the plant in operation. His company furnished machinery and supervised the set up and everything. He showed the reporter over the plant from its beginning, which is the well, just to the west of the plant building. This well is 250 feet deep and has been drilled into a vein of splendid water of an undiminishible supply.

Running to the bottom of the well are the two pipes, one used to bring the water to the top and the other an air pipe which forces the water up through the other pipe, under 60 pounds of pressure. The water is then forced into a 5,000 gallon capacity tank, which amount of water would make about 30 tons of ice, but is used for other purposes, too.

Removing Impurities.

From the tank the water goes to a little structure where there is an automatic treating machine which starts operation and shuts off automatically with the rise and fall of water in the cylinder, as required. This machine mixes the chemicals used to purify the water, in their proper proportion. The chemicals used are lime, soda ash and a very small amount of phosphate.

After the chemicals have been mixed with the water, the solution goes down through a shaft to the ground where a flush valve that is opened two or three times a day, lets out the impurities. The rest of it then goes to the sand filter where all other foreign substances are removed and the water drawn from the filter in a glass is just as clear and pure as it can possibly be made. The water is now ready for the making of ice.

The first step in the ice-making process is the cooling of the ammonia in the tank behind the plant. The water from the large storage tank is released from a considerable height and falls through eight different elevations of screens which break it up into a mist. The mist evaporates quickly, which is the cooling process. The cooler will lower the temperature of the air around it for three to four degrees. The ammonia comes from the plant in a gaseous state and is cooled to a liquid state by the ammonia cooling process.

Take Heat Out Of Water.

Then to return to the plant, one goes into the room where the ice is made. There is a large vat or tank in which the ice cans are placed through the use of an electric machine. Another machine fills the tanks with just the proper amount of water, two at a time. The big vat is filled with salt brine and the temperature maintained in the brine is about 16 degrees. Connections are made with the tops of the cans which contain raw water—the cans setting in the salt brine to quite a depth—by hose from an electric agitator and the air pressure keeps the water in the cans in constant circulation up to the time the whole cake is frozen.

An interest thing about the making of ice is that instead of putting the "cold" into it to freeze it, the "heat" is taken out. This is done by the ammonia absorbing the heat from the water in the ice cans after the ammonia pressure has been decreased from 190 pounds per square inch to 25 pounds per square inch. The capacity of the plant is 22 tons per day of 24 hours.

The Scoring Machine.

Next comes the vault, or cold storage room, a very neat and clean room with a wooden lattice work on the floor. This room will hold 175 tons of ice, and when the reporter was in there it was quite cool. Water will readily freeze in this room and the reporter felt the coolness, going in from the warmer air outside to a considerable degree. The exact temperature is 24 degrees.

The feature of this room is the scoring machine. This scores six blocks of ice per second. The scoring machine is an invention that is sanctioned by the weights and measures department at Austin. The device marks the cake of ice so that cuts of 25, 50 and 100 pounds can be easily "picked" out of it and the customer is insured absolute correct measure as allowance is made for melting on the wagons when the ice cakes are made in 320 pounds and sold at the 300-pound figure.

This scoring process is going to lead people of Bryan and vicinity to demand scored ice to insure their getting full weight and full measure.

ALLEN ACADEMY BAND GAVE A FINE CONCERT AT RELIANCE SATURDAY

At the request of Secretary Sam E. Eberstadt of the Bryan and Brazos County Chamber of Commerce, and as a part of his work in promoting rural progress and the success of rural community club work, the Allen Academy Band, thirty in number, lead by the director, Prof. Anton Ernst, went to Reliance Saturday night and gave a splendid concert to the great delight of the large crowd which had assembled to hear them, notice of their program having been spread far and wide over the community. People were there from Bryan, Steep Hollow and Kurten, as well as a few from more distant points.

The Reliance people furnished means of transportation, which, assisted by Bryan cars, one from the Eagle office and a truck by the Western Public Service Company, carried the band boys out there for the entertainment. Upon the arrival of the visitors the ladies of the community served plates well-filled with cake, pie, sandwiches and other delicacies. Then an excellent program was rendered by the Allen band, between the numbers Prof. Ernst giving talks on the value of music in cultural development and something of the spread of music as showing or demonstrating the degree of civilization of the country or land.

Personnel of the Band.
The Reliance Community Club then put on a program during the intermission, consisting of recitations and numbers by the Reliance mixed quartet, the latter bringing much applause for their fine singing. Secretary S. E. Eberstadt gave a short talk on community club work, suggesting a joint meeting with the Kurten club at some near future date and urging attendance at regularly scheduled meetings with a crowd such as was present on this occasion. H. D. Cuykendall of the Eagle gave a reading.

The personnel of the Allen band was as follows: Professor Anton Ernst, director; Flute, Chas. Ramsey; clarinets, J. P. Mitchell, K. Vinson, Geo. Perry, J. Knolle; cornets, J. Barry, J. R. Jones, L. L. McIntyre, Lucien Green; altos, D. Ames, F. Steinkruger, J. Stafford; saxophones, Levey Adam, William Glass, J. Wilson; baritone, Neff Mainer; B-flat base, Geo. Bates; trombones, J. Huber, J. K. NEGRO IS ARRESTED FINED SWINDLING

L. C. Wilson, local negro, was fined $30.00 before Judge J. W. Hamilton on Thursday morning when he pleaded guilty to a charge of "swindling." He was then released after he had paid back money obtained under false pretenses. Wilson had represented himself as a collector of charity for the Colored Orphan's Home near Old Bonnevillie. He collected contributions from a number of Bryan business men, touching their hearts with a tale of hunger and need in this colored institution. He not only asked for money but for necessities in the grocery line.

A day or so later the superintendent of the Colored Orphan's Home came into The Fair store and while he was there W. R. Thomas, the proprietor took occasion to tell him that he was one of a large number who had donated to the home. This was news to the superintendent who stated that they had no solicitors out and that they had not received any contributions from white people. He added that he regretted that the incident had happened as it gave the home a bad reputation with the white people. He also stated that whenever the home really did send out a real solicitor or among the white people it would be because the home was in dire need of food and other of life's necessities.

Mr. Thomas said that this instance merely served to show the good that the advertising and soliciting scheme in Bryan was doing and that this faker could easily have been shown up if the merchants had demanded an endorsement. The tale, however, was so tragic and well told, that it drew upon the hearts and purses of sound level-headed business men.

STRAYED—From my farm at Tabor, some time in February, one black sow with white belting across shoulders. For reward notify M. S. BROACH, Bryan, Texas.

LOST—Dark bay mare mule, 15 hands high, light mouth, scars on side and left shoulder. Finder please notify JESS CONLEE, Sheriff.

EX-STUDENTS BANQUET HONORING OUR STATE LEGISLATORS HELD COLLEGE ON MONDAY NIGHT

President W. B. Bizzell and Dr. B. Youngblood Eulogize Character and Work of Senator R. S. Bowers of Caldwell and W. S. Barron of Bryan, Praising Them for Great Work Done in Legislature for the Advancement of A. and M. College—Banquet Given in Mess Hall at College by Ex-Students of Brazos County—H. H. Williamson Presided as Toastmaster—Colonel C. C. Todd Tactfully Presented Wives of Legislators with Silver Water Service Set, Giving Wives Credit for Being "Powers Behind the Guns".

(Special to the Eagle)

COLLEGE STATION, April 14.—Words and material tokens of gratitude were extended to the legislative representatives of the A. and M. College, and the local district by College and Bryan people and a few invited guests who assembled in a great appreciative throng around sumptuously decorated and served tables in the Bernard Sbis Mess Hall Monday evening. It was in a truly descriptive term a party of local people given to their own legislative workers, Senator R. S. Bowers of Caldwell and Representative W. S. Barron of Bryan. They were thanked, heaped with words of gratitude and esteem, dined in the best art of local culinary practice, entertained with music and given a lasting token to commemorate the feeling that was expressed for them. A pure silver water service presented to the wives of each of the legislators as "the powers behind the guns" by Colonel C. C. Todd, commandant will perpetuate in the memory of the honored guests the elegant things that were said of their statesmanship, character, citizenship, perceptive qualities and loyalty to education as exemplified by the A. and M. College. The gifts will remind through the years of the tributes of eulogy paid by President W. B. Bizzell to his friend and colleague, champion and protector, Senator Bowers and by Dr. B. Youngblood to the legislative co-worker, Mr. Barron.

TESTED IN ACTION

Pronouncing the necessity of acknowledging friendship and demonstrating gratitude in the scheme of harmonious human affairs President Bizzell made transcendent expression of the full measure of thankfulness which this community and its public constituency hold for the legislative honorees. "As long as we live we will praise your name for the loyal helpfulness which you have given to the institution," he said. "We would be the worst of ingrates if we did not have gratitude in our hearts for you two men who have stood between us and the public and given us strong representation." The president then turned his remarks directly to Senator Bowers, relating incidents which demonstrated the powerful support that he had given to the educational appropriation bill beginning with the 38th legislature, and crediting him with the qualities and capabilities which made his help so effective. "Senator Bowers is the kind of man who has character, keen insight into the political and economic problems of his state and who cannot be swayed from a sense of right duty," he said. "I tested his character and ability in the unflinching test of examining him while in action on the senate floor from the vantage of the balcony. In his support and attack on bills affecting the welfare of the state I was given the opportunity of reading his moral and intellectual merit and found it great." President Bizzell credited the senator for his work in behalf of the A. and M. College as the "greatest achievement in legislation in my time."

Dr. Youngblood portrayed the obligation due to Representative Barron in a detailed review of the work which Mr. Barron did in the past session in championing the interests

FORD MOTOR COMPANY PLACES GUARANTEES BEHIND USED FORDS

One of the most important steps yet undertaken to protect used car purchasers and at the same time place the handling of such cars on a more business-like basis is the announcement by Mr. Edsel B. Ford, president of the Ford Motor Company that operating under a company plan Ford dealers will hereafter place a guarantee upon used Ford cars disposed of by them.

The Ford Motor Company is the first large automobile concern to take direct steps in the matter of used cars. Inasmuch as there are about as many Fords in operation in the country as all other makes combined, it is apparent that the action of the Ford Motor Company will exert a wide influence on the marketing of used cars and in improving conditions generally in that phase of the automobile business.

"Every used Ford car represents so much unused transportation and is of value to someone," Mr. Ford said in his statement regarding the plan. "The Ford dealer through his position and intimate knowledge of the car certainly is the best judge as to the value of this transportation—the best to determine a price on the mileage the car may yet be expected to deliver—that's his business."

"With this advantage the Ford dealer is prepared to give his used car customers benefit not likely to be obtained elsewhere."

"If re-conditioning is necessary he has the work done by trained Ford mechanics using improved equipment and genuine Ford parts, and with these economies and advantages he is able to offer the used car to the purchaser at low cost and with a guarantee covering its mechanical fitness."

The plan becomes effective at once and places a guarantee on used Ford cars purchased from authorized Ford dealers thereby insuring proper mechanical operation under ordinary driving conditions.

In assuming the direction and supervision of this plan to be carried out by its dealer organization, the Ford Motor Company feels that it is embracing an opportunity to be of greater service to those who purchase used Ford cars. CHAMBERS-WILSON MOTOR CO.

A. D. MARTIN, JR. HIT BY AUTO ON MONDAY

Playing baseball in the street proved dangerous for A. D. Martin, Jr., as it is apt to be for any person so doing. A. D., Jr., is the 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Martin who live on east 34th street. About 6 o'clock last evening as he was playing ball in the street with other boys, he ran across the street to get a ball and started right back across. A car driven by Miss Leila Law Davis, a Dodge sedan, was coming down the street, and the Martin boy was hit by the car and knocked down, the car passing completely over him but fortunately none of the wheels passed over his body. The injuries were to one arm which seems to be stiff at the elbow but the extent of injury cannot yet be told. An X-ray picture is to be made to learn more about the case. This, while a regrettable accident, was most fortunate in that the boy escaped with his life.

(Special to Bryan Daily Eagle)

COLLEGE STATION, Apr. 14.—About 100 Temple and Bell county citizens motored to the A. and M. College this morning under the leadership of P. L. Downs, Jr., member of the A. and M. Board of Directors, and other leading business men of Temple and farmers of Bell county. They reached the campus about 11:30 o'clock and were given a welcome by President W. B. Bizzell and responses were made by Chas. S. Cox and Mr. Downs. A short talk was also made by Col. Ike S. Ashburn. The visitors, through their spokesmen, expressed themselves as delighted with the institution, which held great favor with them, in order that they might be able to give even heartier support to it in the future.

"We are here to learn more about the institution in order that we can give more intelligent support to it in our district," Mr. Downs said. The group is in charge of George A. The continued dry weather hindering the work on the beautifying of lots, planting shrubs, etc., the members of the board, while not discouraged, feel that their work is unavoidably at a stand still until a good rain puts the ground in better condition for the growing of the grass and flowers. Three more names were reported as added to the endowment fund, as follows: Mrs. Dona Carnes, Tyler Haswell and R. Q. Astin. This was an encouragement, as the endowment fund will make permanent the upkeep and care of the lots so provided, and give promise of lasting good done through the organization. No further business, the meeting was adjourned.

RIVERSIDE FARMERS UNITING TO COMBAT GRASSHOPPER MENACE

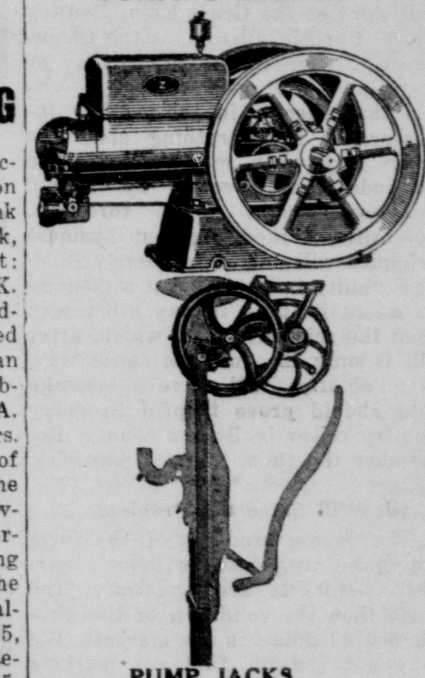

Pete San Angelo and Sam Piccolo, farmers of the Riverside community, were among those calling on County Agent C. L. Beason on Wednesday, asking for information concerning control of grasshoppers, which, these farmers said, were hatching out in countless numbers. The county agent advised the use of the bran mash poison, and suggested that the entire community enlist in a campaign of systematic poisoning, using only the poison recommended by the College and which has been found effective when used as directed. Reports of the grasshopper menace would indicate that our farmers of Brazos county, as well as other counties, are face to face with an emergency which should be met with systematic concert of action.

EX-STUDENTS BANQUET HONORING OUR STATE LEGISLATORS HELD COLLEGE ON MONDAY NIGHT

President W. B. Bizzell and Dr. B. Youngblood Eulogize Character and Work of Senator R. S. Bowers of Caldwell and W. S. Barron of Bryan, Praising Them for Great Work Done in Legislature for the Advancement of A. and M. College—Banquet Given in Mess Hall at College by Ex-Students of Brazos County—H. H. Williamson Presided as Toastmaster—Colonel C. C. Todd Tactfully Presented Wives of Legislators with Silver Water Service Set, Giving Wives Credit for Being "Powers Behind the Guns".

(Special to the Eagle)

COLLEGE STATION, April 14.—Words and material tokens of gratitude were extended to the legislative representatives of the A. and M. College, and the local district by College and Bryan people and a few invited guests who assembled in a great appreciative throng around sumptuously decorated and served tables in the Bernard Shiba Mess Hall Monday evening. It was in a truly descriptive term a party of local people given to their own legislative workers, Senator R. S. Bowers of Caldwell and Representative W. S. Barron of Bryan. They were thanked, heaped with words of gratitude and esteem, dined in the best art of local culinary practice, entertained with music and given a lasting token to commemorate the feeling that was expressed for them. A pure silver water service presented to the wives of each of the legislators as "the powers behind the guns" by Colonel C. C. Todd, commandant will perpetuate in the memory of the honored guests the elegant things that were said of their statesmanship, character, citizenship, perceptive qualities and loyalty to education as exemplified by the A. and M. College. The gifts will remind through the years of the tributes of eulogy paid by President W. B. Bizzell to his friend and colleague, champion and protector, Senator Bowers and by Dr. B. Youngblood to the legislative co-worker, Mr. Barron.

TESTED IN ACTION

Pronouncing the necessity of acknowledging friendship and demonstrating gratitude in the scheme of harmonious human affairs President Bizzell made transcendent expression of the full measure of thankfulness which this community and its public constituency hold for the legislative honorees. "As long as we live we will praise your name for the loyal helpfulness which you have given to the institution," he said. "We would be the worst of ingrates if we did not have gratitude in our hearts for you two men who have stood between us and the public and given us strong representation." The president then turned his remarks directly to Senator Bowers, relating incidents which demonstrated the powerful support that he had given to the educational appropriation bill beginning with the 38th legislature, and crediting him with the qualities and capabilities which made his help so effective. "Senator Bowers is the kind of man who has character, keen insight into the political and economic problems of his state and who cannot be swayed from a sense of right duty," he said. "I tested his character and ability in the unflinching test of examining him while in action on the senate floor from the vantage of the balcony. In his support and attack on bills affecting the welfare of the state I was given the opportunity of reading his moral and intellectual merit and found it great." President Bizzell credited the senator for his work in behalf of the A. and M. College as the "greatest achievement in legislation in my time."

Dr. Youngblood portrayed the obligation due to Representative Barron in a detailed review of the work which Mr. Barron did in the past session in championing the interests of the institution in all its branches. "He fought and fought well," Dr. Youngblood said. "He won his fight in a noble way proving himself a clean, intelligent, honorable and faithful worker and convincing his constituency that they are being well served. He has developed ability and reputation."

Credit To Wives.

In terms of judicial expression Colonel Todd tactfully divided the portions of credit which had been served so generously to the legislators, gave half to the wives who sat near the distinguished guests, and then bound husband and wife in their shares by presenting the gifts which represented in a lasting way something of the gratitude felt for their service.

"These men like others could not have attained to the success which has been their pleasure to achieve without the support of their helpmates of the opposite sex," Colonel Todd said. "The army man knows that the big guns are of no value without the power from behind and this may be used as an example for the case of men before us. The wives are the powers behind the guns." As he asked the honor guests to accept "a gift as a token of esteem to those most interested in the welfare of the donors," John Seeley Caldwell of the Caldwell Jewelry Store of Bryan, assisted by two helpers, placed sets of silver before them. A pitcher, silver tray and twelve goblets constituted the gifts. The events of the evening's entertainment moved smoothly under the direction of H. H. Williamson, the master of ceremonies. He called each speaker to place with appropriate toast of humorous trust or irony, jest, pun anecdote or terse eulogy and dismissed them with delightful repartee, mirthful comment or credit of effect.

A complimentary part of the program was the introduction of Colonel Ike S. Ashburn as representing the former students in the capacity of state executive secretary. He explained the organization of the Association, outlined its program and predicted its further service.

Tributes Acknowledged.

Further contribution was made to the ceremonies by music of the Ageland orchestra and individual numbers in instrumental and vocal form. Singers were Mrs. F. H. Fish, Mrs. Charles Felker, and Mrs. T. H. Leland and instrumental performers were Mrs. B. Youngblood, Mrs. M. M. Montgomery and Dr. George Summey, Jr.

In responding to the toasts of the evening, Senator Bowers acknowledged the impotency of words to convey his feeling of pleasure at the honor done to himself and family but drew great response from his hearers in a poetic expression which symbolized his attachment to the ideal of providing fully for the youth of the land with adequate educational facilities.

Mr. Barron made grateful acknowledgment to tribute paid him and tactfully overcame any opinions that might have existed to attribute self esteem to him. His sharp humor cut away all self consciousness and presented him in the habiliments of the man with sense of duty. He also returned credit for credit to his college friends in declaring that it was easy to represent the College as it was an institution of prominent position in the state system of education, selling itself to the people as an agency of service. The Extension Service was strongly complimented for this salesmanship of the institution's service. He concluded by vowing his pleasure to add his service to the ideals of the College and expressing his confidence in the present executive administration to provide a building program for the institutions.

Besides his wife, Senator Bowers was accompanied by his two brothers, Hays and Allen E. his daughter, Vira Belle, and a family visitor, Miss Jamie Thompson, of Austin.

FORD MOTOR COMPANY PLACES GUARANTEES BEHIND USED FORDS

One of the most important steps yet undertaken to protect used car purchasers and at the same time place the handling of such cars on a more business-like basis is the announcement by Mr. Edsel B. Ford, president of the Ford Motor Company that operating under a company plan Ford dealers will hereafter place a guarantee upon used Ford cars disposed of by them.

The Ford Motor Company is the first large automobile concern to take direct steps in the matter of used cars. Inasmuch as there are about as many Fords in operation in the country as all other makes combined, it is apparent that the action of the Ford Motor Company will exert a wide influence on the marketing of used cars and in improving conditions generally in that phase of the automobile business.

"Every used Ford car represents so much unused transportation and is of value to someone," Mr. Ford said in his statement regarding the plan. "The Ford dealer through his position and intimate knowledge of the car certainly is the best judge as to the value of this transportation—the best to determine a price on the mileage the car may yet be expected to deliver—that's his business."

"With this advantage the Ford dealer is prepared to give his used car customers benefit not likely to be obtained elsewhere."

"If re-conditioning is necessary he has the work done by trained Ford mechanics using improved equipment and genuine Ford parts, and with these economies and advantages he is able to offer the used car to the purchaser at low cost and with a guarantee covering its mechanical fitness."

The plan becomes effective at once and places a guarantee on used Ford cars purchased from authorized Ford dealers thereby insuring proper mechanical operation under ordinary driving conditions.

In assuming the direction and supervision of this plan to be carried out by its dealer organization, the Ford Motor Company feels that it is embracing an opportunity to be of greater service to those who purchase used Ford cars. CHAMBERS-WILSON MOTOR CO.

A. D. MARTIN, JR. HIT BY AUTO ON MONDAY

Playing baseball in the street proved dangerous for A. D. Martin, Jr., as it is apt to be for any person so doing. A. D., Jr., is the 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Martin who live on east 34th street. About 6 o'clock last evening as he was playing ball in the street with other boys, he ran across the street to get a ball and started right back across. A car driven by Miss Leila Law Davis, a Dodge sedan, was coming down the street, and the Martin boy was hit by the car and knocked down, the car passing completely over him but fortunately none of the wheels passed over his body. The injuries were to one arm which seems to be stiff at the elbow but the extent of injury cannot yet be told. An X-ray picture is to be made to learn more about the case. This, while a regrettable accident, was most fortunate in that the boy escaped with his life.

Ashburn. The visitors, through their spokesmen, expressed themselves as desirous of becoming better acquainted with the institution, which held great favor with them, in order that they might be able to give even heartier support to it in the future.

"We are here to learn more about the institution in order that we can give more intelligent support to it in our district," Mr. Downs said. The group is in charge of George A. CEMETERY BOARD MET ON TUESDAY MORNING

The regular meeting of the directors of the Cemetery Association was held at the City National Bank on Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, with the following members present: Mrs. Mary P. Carr, Mrs. John K. Parker, Mrs. R. Q. Astin, Mrs. Edgar Covey, Mrs. Dona Carnes, Fred L. Cavitt, Mrs. Albert Buchanan and Mrs. G. M. Brandon. In the absence of the president, George A. Adams, the vice president, Mrs. Mary P. Carr, presided. Minutes of the previous meeting read by the secretary, Mrs. Carnes, and approved by unanimous vote. The treasurer, F. L. Cavitt, gave the following as the report of the finances of the association: Available fund, balance last report, March 10, 1925, $141.94; receipts, $94.60; disbursements, $45; balance, April 14, 1925, $191.54. Maintenance fund, balance March 10, 1925, $123.34; receipts, $1; disbursements, $36; balance April 14, 1925, $88.34. Total balance to credit of Cemetery Association, $279.88.

The continued dry weather hindering the work on the beautifying of lots, planting shrubs, etc., the members of the board, while not discouraged, feel that their work is unavoidably at a stand still until a good rain puts the ground in better condition for the growing of the grass and flowers. Three more names were reported as added to the endowment fund, as follows: Mrs. Dona Carnes, Tyler Haswell and R. Q. Astin. This was an encouragement, as the endowment fund will make permanent the upkeep and care of the lots so provided, and give promise of lasting good done through the organization. No further business, the meeting was adjourned.

It was found to have been badly bruised and had a fractured skull. The actual extent of injury only time can tell. The name of the driver was reported to the Eagle but verification has not yet been made.

RIVERSIDE FARMERS UNITING TO COMBAT GRASSHOPPER MENACE

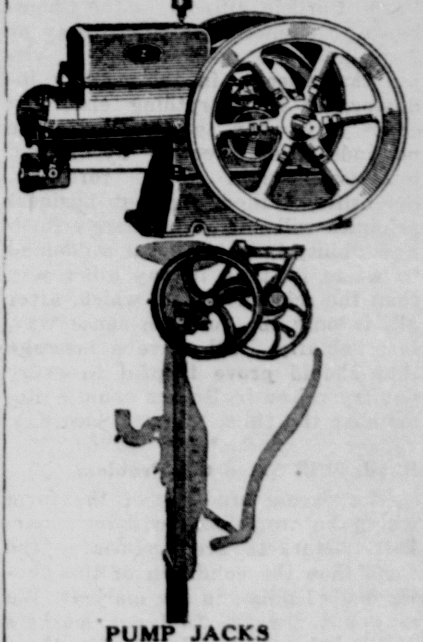

Pete San Angelo and Sam Piccolo, farmers of the Riverside community, were among those calling on County Agent C. L. Beason on Wednesday, asking for information concerning control of grasshoppers, which, these farmers said, were hatching out in countless numbers. The county agent advised the use of the bran mass poison, and suggested that the entire community enlist in a campaign of systematic poisoning, using only the poison recommended by the College and which has been found effective when used as directed. Reports of the grasshopper menace would indicate that our farmers of Brazos county, as well as other counties, are face to face with an emergency which should be met with systematic concert of action.

TONY VARISCO

Life Story of Tony Varisco

A recent article in the Bryan Eagle told of the sale in Bryan, through the Lawrence Wholesale Grocery Company, cotton department, of some 400 bales of cotton, for more than $60,000, the cotton being the property of Tony Varisco, Italian, of the Steele's Store community.

But, while this was a large amount of cotton to be produced by one Brazos Bottom farmer, and a good deal of money, all in one sum; the story that underlies the above paragraph is even more interesting and throws much light on the matter of how this man has accomplished the feat of making his life and work a success from a most humble beginning.

To read the story of the life of Tony Varisco is like reading one of the articles in The American Magazine on 'great men who have carved success for themselves.' It is a story of a foreigner who came to this country and with less than nothing to begin on, has accumulated a nice plantation in the Brazos Bottom, has a comfortable home and surroundings and is a highly respected citizen of Steele's Store and vicinity.

Native of America. While we say that Tony Varisco is a foreigner, he was born in the United States, and in the Crescent City of New Orleans. His father died, however, when he was but one month old and his mother, having no relatives in this country and no ties to hold her, decided to go back to the old country, which to be exact was the island of Sicily, in the Mediterranean, off the coast of Italy. Tony was born on June 2, 1878, and it was in the same year that he went with his mother back to Sicily.

Tony's boyhood and young manhood were spent in that country. He finally chose farming for his profession of a little place 20 miles from Palermo, Sicily. Here he married and two children were born.

But, in 1907, he began to feel a desire to return to the land of his father, where, he had heard, opportunities were so much greater for a man. While a native American, he could not speak one word of English and was in a practical sense a foreigner in every way with all the disadvantages of language and customs when entering this land.

From New York to Houston. Leaving a good farm and a good home, Tony Varisco set sail for New York. He started with 700 lire and his passage cost him 400 lire, leaving him 300 lire upon arriving at New York City. He stayed in New York City for three weeks and spent some of his money and then bought a ticket to Houston, for which he paid $40.40. Arriving in Houston, he found that he had $9 in his pocket. This was in American money.

He secured employment in a macaroni factory and was to receive $15 per month and room and board. He worked there for two months, spending in the meanwhile the $9, which he had left. At the end of two months he quit work and the foreman gave him $40 for his labor instead of the $50 due him.

Sent for His Family. Leaving Houston, Tony Varisco came to Bryan, and soon after arriving here he borrowed $100 from Dominik Angona, one of the leaders of Steele's Store community today, a cousin, and sent the $140 back home to Sicily to bring his wife and children to this country. The boy was named Brazos after Brazos county and still bears that name. His marriage last fall will long be remembered by those who attended the bountiful and magnificent wedding feast. The daughter was named Mary.

He spent two weeks in Bryan, and then went to Highbank, Texas, where he farmed 5 acres, worked it for 75 cents per day and made two bales of cotton. The next year he went to the Steele's Store community and started work on the farm of Charley Davis, the tract which he worked, a 25-acre plot, now being a part of the J. S. Mooring plantation. He again borrowed money from his cousin, Dominik Angona, this time $185 to buy a mule and a little money to operate the farm, making him indebted to his cousin in the sum of $350. He rented the 25 acres and bought a second mule from Roger Astin. The first year came the flood and despite that he made eight bales of cotton and about 200 bushels of corn. He paid back about one-half of what he owed his cousin and the next year started to work 30 acres on the Julian Court place. It was a dry year and he made 10 bales of cotton and another 200 bushels of corn. So he was able to pay the balance of his indebtedness and bought another mule from Angelo Collette for $130.

Story of Progress. He next farmed 50 acres on the Perry Lewis farm and made 20 bales of cotton, which left him free from all debts and with about $800 in the bank. The second year on the same place he made 30 bales of cotton and cleared $700 more.

With $1,500 in the bank he rented 125 acres on the Hill Wilson place and sub-rented 50 acres and kept 75 acres. The 50 acres he had rented to Jimmy Corone. He made 42 bales of cotton and cleared $1,300. Again going in debt, he bought 75 acres of land from John E. Astin at a cost of $9,000, paying $3,000 of it in cash which he had made and cleared. He still kept the farm he was renting from Hill Wilson, and leased the place he had bought to Tony Genaro for two years. He next bought 110 acres from Frank Cangelosi, a part of the John E. Astin place, for $13,000 and paid $6,000 in cash. Two years ago Mr. Varisco bought 235 acres, 199 from Mr. Miller and 36 from Mrs. Dell Heame, and after the first crop he paid all that was due on the place in cash.

Has Moderate Wealth. Tony Varisco now owns 420 acres, has a fine farm home that was once the 'big house' on the John Astin Plantation, and recently improved and remodeled at a cost of $800; has fine farm buildings, 18 head of mules, horses and dairy cows, too; a half interest in the cotton gin at Steele's Store worth $10,000; a store building in that vicinity worth more than $1,000, and money in the bank. He also owns his old farm home in Sicily which is managed by a brother.

That one who came to this country with only a moderate education, no money to speak of, and without knowledge of the English language, has achieved so well, indicates that opportunity to carve success is not lacking in this land to one who has the desire to work and the ambition. Mrs. T. J. Postell, Center; tion to succeed.

RAILROAD OFFICIALS EXTENDING AID TO FARMERS ON HOPPERS

Poison for grasshoppers will be distributed over the right of way of the H. & T. C. Railroad through Grimes county, as well as the Santa Fe and I.-G. N., it was determined Tuesday when officials of that road met with the C. of C. committee here. The H. & T. C. officials were not present at a meeting held last week but sent a message stating that they would be quite soon. That meeting was held yesterday and the officials showed a desire to assist the farmers insofar as they are able.

H. Slabetski, division engineer and an official from Ennis, also W. C. Lamb, road master, met with the directors.

The result of the meeting was a promise on the part of the officials to poison the right of way, using the bran mash formula recommended by R. R. Reppert, entomologist of A. and M. College. Messrs. W. B. Templeman and J. W. Brosig, who were present at the meeting, offered to have the poison distributed on the railroad property touching their respective farms, the railroad company bearing the expense, and the officials announced they would seek to make such an arrangement with other farmers along the route. They agreed, however, that the right of way would be treated with this insect poison at once as a means of assistance to agricultural interests.

The work of poisoning is already in operation over the lines of the Santa Fe and I.-G. N. in this county and a portion of Brazos county. John D. Rogers instructed the Santa Fe force how to mix the formula and they have since been busy scattering the mash all the way from Clay Station to Yarboro. The I.-G. N. adopted the plan of having farmers along their line of road do the work adjacent to their property and it is said that the right of way is being so treated with the poison.

Business men and farmers are alike appreciative of the co-operative spirit manifested by the railroad officials. The farmers have been cleaning out their fields but could not destroy the pests on the railroad right of way. Now the railroad people have come to their assistance. —Navasota Examiner.

Easter Egg Hunt Big Success

It is estimated over sixteen hundred children, parents and friends gathered in the Caldwell pasture Saturday afternoon to enjoy the Easter egg hunt sponsored by the Bryan Lions and put over by the co-operation of the churches, schools, Sunday schools, business men of Bryan and the citizens of Brazos county combined. The success of the occasion was demonstrated by the response of the children and the evidences of enjoyment displayed on every hand.

Sometime before three o'clock in the afternoon cars began to arrive at the hour house filled with children from rural sections and it is believed that each of the twenty-nine schools in the county were represented.

At 3 o'clock the committee on transportation got busy and piloted the children to Caldwell's pasture where the fun began. The committee delegated to hide the eggs had done their duty and were waiting for the hunt to start. Plenty of ice water had been provided and the stage was all set for the race, for that was what it proved to be.

No set program had been arranged, but the children made a program of their own. Their anticipation and enthusiasm shown in their faces and actions and each heart seemed to be set on finding one or more of the prize eggs donated by the business men of Bryan. These numbers considerably more than one hundred.

Naturally the children began to mill like a herd of excited cattle, but the Lions were on hand and soon had them working in order. Announcement was made by Lion R. L. Brown about the division of the field and the ages of the children to hunt in each. Immediately the children jumped the gun and started. Then it was that Lions Miller, Searcy, Fuller, Sholl, Cox, Erskine, Munson, Ratcliffe, Parks, and others, got busy and restored order. The children were then arranged according to ages in the proper locations, and began to chafe at the bits to be off once more, but were called to line up for a picture. This was taken and Lion J. Bryan Miller explained about prizes, etc., and introduced the president, Lion Searcy, to say a few words. He started—so did the children. However, his clear voice calling them back soon restored order, a short talk was made and the children were again placed in position and told to go. Well, go they did, and soon demonstrated that it had not been necessary to provide music for they provided the sweetest music ever heard by mortal ear, that of the laughter of happy children having the time of their life, and no doubt stories of this Easter hunt will be told by the fireside of many a home in after years when some of these children are reminiscing over the good times of early childhood.

Candy for Each One. Of course some children found more eggs than others while a few found none, but the thoughtful Lions had provided for this by keeping back a few to make the unfortunate happy, while many thoughtful mothers as well as some thoughtful children who had secured many eggs divided with the unfortunate. Neither was this all. Another surprise had been provided either by thoughtful Lions or by Mother Nature for quite a number of small rabbits were captured by the children which added greatly to their delight.

Then came another surprise. When the children began to return from the search, tired but happy, they were told to line up and pass by a certain point where a bag of candy was given to each child while the unfortunate seeker after eggs was also given a few colored Easter eggs.

The Boy Scouts also played an important part in the Easter egg hunt by acting as patrols and rendered efficient services in their usual manner.

Now came the aftermath when mothers and children gathered in the shade of the trees and began showing their joy and happiness by animated conversation which continued as group after group wended their way toward the autos and trucks which conveyed them homeward to live over again the experiences of the day as they talked to loved ones, playmates and friends.

Yes, the Easter egg hunt was a success and is said by many who were present to be the biggest thing of its kind ever pulled off in Brazos county. However, conversation with any Lion will convince you that they do not claim all the credit, but attribute it to the co-operation of the spirit of the people of Bryan and Brazos county.

There being 400 eggs left from the Saturday afternoon county-wide Easter egg hunt sponsored by the Lions club, it was decided to remember the negro children also and a hunt was given for them on Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the open field northwest of the cemetery. About 150 were present. The committee from the negroes, which worked in conjunction with the Lion Club committee were Barney Goosby, Ed Scott, Dr. A. E. Thompson, Rev. Caraway, M. E. church; Rev. J. H. Hardeman, A. M. E. church; E. A. Kemp, principal negro school. Lions present were: President and Mrs. C. A. Searcy, Mr. and Mrs. J. Bryan Miller, and visitors, Miss Louise Weddington, Miss Ralphanna Searcy, S. C. Hoyle.

Knight Templar Easter Sunday Service

A packed house at the First Baptist church last night were delighted with the Knights Templar Easter service. Many people could not be accommodated and had to be turned away, so well was the structure filled. Special music was rendered by the choir, under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Ward. P. S. Park acted as Prelate in the absence of General H. B. Stoddard, who was unable to serve.

The sermon was delivered by Dr. Jno. A. Held, pastor of the church. His subject was "Faith in Terms of Service," and his text was "David served his generation by the will of God."

As a preface to his main theme, Dr. Held gave some very interesting and valuable statistics with regard to Masonry, its history and growth. He said that there were more than three million Masons in the United States today, over 130,000 of whom were in Texas; that Masonry had an honorable record for standing as the defender of freedom, lover of the pure and sustainer of religion and religious freedom.

Fifty-three signers of the Declaration of Independence were Masons, declared the speaker. The first president, vice president and secretary of war were Masons. Paul Revere was a Mason and it is believed that everyone whom he summoned on that memorable night were Masons. Of the Knights Templar there are over 400,000 members in the United States and of whom Texas numbers 20,000 in 100 different places where there are gatherings for Easter services being held as we are gathered in this building here on this Sabbath night, Dr. Held said.

Then the pastor turned to his central theme and stated that every individual had a three-fold motive which actuated him in his life plans. The first was "egoism," which begins and ends with self. A man's measurements and estimates of life and be seen by the things in which they engage and the things that they like. Some men measure life by the amount of money they amass; others by the amount of pleasure they have; while still others come to recognize life's challenge in its noblest and finest. It reminds one of Kipling when he warned, in his famous "Recessional" — "Lest We Forget."

The second phase, the speaker said was "altruism." David was loved by his generation because he served them. Altruism is that motive from which have come many of the world's chiefest and highest blessings; the liberties that are dear to us; our institutions that have been planted by great sacrifices; our benevolent orders and our charities. Well has Lowell said "They are slaves most base whose love of right is for themselves and not for all the race."

"David served by the will of God. This gave us the third motive: 'Seeking the Will of God,' and as we shall be actuated by this motive, we shall not only bless God but shall bless humanity." The speaker closed by quoting two stanzas of "The House by the Side of the Road," by Sam Walter Foss.

The benediction was pronounced by Rev. R. L. Brown, pastor of the Baptist church at College Station.

Success of Great Eight Poultry Farm

"We are doing a most satisfactory business and it has been a paying business from the start," said H. J. Schlafly, proprietor of the Great Eight Poultry Farm at Carlyle, Illinois, one of the greatest poultry farms in the country and a typical example of the industry at its best. Mr. Schlafly is in Bryan at this time visiting relatives, he having married Miss Mary Ross Parker, sister of Lawrence and Sam Parker of the Parker Lumber Company, Mr. and Mrs. Schlafly and little son are en route back to Carlyle from a visit in Jackson, Mississippi.

It is of interest locally to know that the foundation stock for this great famed poultry farm came from Brazos county, it being the first ever shipped out of this county and one of the first in all Texas. From this beginning some years ago the farm has built up to an enviable place in the poultry industry today.

Willing Co-operation. Mr. Schlafly is a young man, a practical business man, yet with pep and enthusiasm and power, knowledge and ability. He pays his employees liberally, places responsibility on them and rewards them in a systematic way for all they do beyond a fixed mark. Thus, every helper seems to have a personal interest in doing his best. There is hearty co-operation from every employee — co-operation gladly and freely and willingly given — not forced.

The decreased supply of cattle in the rural sections and the increased population of the cities has created a demand for poultry, both as to eggs and carcasses. Thus the poultry man has had to depend for success on his ability to get the highest possible egg production or the best quality of poultry for meat purposes, or both combined as well as they can be.

Systematic Basis. And the poultry industry is just at its real beginning for instead of the demand for the best stock decreasing, it is constantly increasing. Trap-nested, pedigreed, trap-nested stock great egg record and correct standard type and color is the demand today and will command almost any reasonable price. The Great Eight Poultry Farm is the result of a vision of what is needed in America today by a shrewd, far-seeing, young, practical and enthusiastic business man who had the facilities and ability to turn his vision into a reality.

The poultry farm is operated on a basis of system in every department and reports are turned in daily showing progress, loss or gain, and other matters of importance to one who checks up on income, increase or decrease in property values, etc. Despite the unusual conditions this past winter, state quarantines and other depressing things, Mr. Schlafly has enjoyed a profit from his farm and it continues to grow as a result of the right idea as a foundation and the right management to continue the good work.

DUBINSKY STOCK CO. OPEN MONDAY NIGHT—WEEK'S ENGAGEMENT

News that will be of special interest to local theatrical goers, is the announcement of the coming of the Dubinsky Bros. Stock Co., for a week's engagement in Bryan, starting Monday. They previously made a hit here with their clever, clean show and their coming is a welcome one. Everything will be new for this season's engagement, including the vaudeville, plays and novel features.

A feature of this season's show is Mel Repass and his College Broadcasters. This is said to be the best and most expensive orchestra ever presented under canvas. This group of college boys have been broadcasted throughout the middle west and many local radio fans have no doubt tuned in on their exceptionally fine music.

The Vaudeville is also a strong feature this season, including 6 acts of hilarious comedy and wonderful harmony singing. The opening play, "Should A Woman Love?" will thrill and grip you, while the comedy will make you hold your sides with laughter. The Dubinsky's will admit one lady free with each and every paid adult admission on the opening night.

Miss Meighlin McGill of Beaumont is a visitor for the R. V. festivities at A. and M. College and is the guest of Miss Mary Jones at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Egbert Jones.

TONY V. ARISCO

Life Story of Tony Varisco

A recent article in the Bryan Eagle told of the sale in Bryan, through the Lawrence Wholesale Grocery Company, cotton department, of some 400 bales of cotton, for more than $60,000, the cotton being the property of Tony Varisco, Italian, of the Steele's Store community.

But, while this was a large amount of cotton to be produced by one Brazos Bottom farmer, and a good deal of money, all in one sum; the story that underlies the above paragraph is even more interesting and throws much light on the matter of how this man has accomplished the feat of making his life and work a success from a most humble beginning.

To read the story of the life of Tony Varisco is like reading one of the articles in The American Magazine on 'great men who have carved success for themselves.' It is a story of a foreigner who came to this country and with less than nothing to begin on, has accumulated a nice plantation in the Brazos Bottom, has a comfortable home and surroundings and is a highly respected citizen of Steele's Store and vicinity.

Native of America. While we say that Tony Varisco is a foreigner, he was born in the United States, and in the Crescent City of New Orleans. His father died, however, when he was but one month old and his mother, having no relatives in this country and no ties to hold her, decided to go back to the old country, which to be exact was the island of Sicily, in the Mediterranean, off the coast of Italy. Tony was born on June 2, 1878, and it was in the same year that he went with his mother back to Sicily.

Tony's boyhood and young manhood were spent in that country. He finally chose farming for his profession of a little place 20 miles from Palermo, Sicily. Here he married and two children were born.

But, in 1907, he began to feel a desire to return to the land of his father, where, he had heard, opportunities were so much greater for a man. While a native American, he could not speak one word of English and was in a practical sense a foreigner in every way with all the disadvantages of language and customs when entering this land.

From New York to Houston. Leaving a good farm and a good home, Tony Varisco set sail for New York. He started with 700 lire and his passage cost him 400 lire, leaving him 300 lire upon arriving at New York City. He stayed in New York City for three weeks and spent some of his money and then bought a ticket to Houston, for which he paid $40.40. Arriving in Houston, he found that he had $9 in his pocket. This was in American money.

He secured employment in a macaroni factory and was to receive $15 per month and room and board. He worked there for two months, spending in the meanwhile the $9 which he had left. At the end of two months he quit work and the foreman gave him $40 for his labor instead of the $50 due him.

Sent for His Family.

Leaving Houston, Tony Varisco came to Bryan, and soon after arriving here he borrowed $100 from Dominik Angona, one of the leaders of Steele's Store community today, a cousin and sent the $140 back home to Sicily to bring his wife and children to this country. The boy was named Brazos after Brazos county and still bears that name. His marriage last fall will long be remembered by those who attended the bountiful and magnificent wedding feast. The daughter was named Mary.

He spent two weeks in Bryan, and then went to Highbank, Texas, where he farmed 5 acres, worked it for 75 cents per day and made two bales of cotton. The next year he went to the Steele's Store community and started work on the farm of Charley Davis, the tract which he worked, a 25-acre plot, now being a part of the J. S. Mooring plantation. He again borrowed money from his cousin, Dominik Angona, this time $185 to buy a mule and a little money to operate the farm, making him indebted to his cousin in the sum of $350. He rented the 25 acres and bought a second mule from Roger Astin. The first year came the flood and despite that he made eight bales of cotton and about 200 bushels of corn. He paid back about one-half of what he owed his cousin and the next year started to work 30 acres on the Julian Court place. It was a dry year and he made 10 bales of cotton and another 200 bushels of corn. So he was able to pay the balance of his indebtedness and bought another mule from Angelo Collette for $130.

Story of Progress. He next farmed 50 acres on the Perry Lewis farm and made 20 bales of cotton, which left him free from all debts and with about $800 in the bank. The second year on the same place he made 30 bales of cotton and cleared $700 more. With $1,500 in the bank he rented 125 acres on the Hill Wilson place and sub-rented 50 acres and kept 75 acres. The 50 acres he had rented to Jimmy Corone. He made 42 bales of cotton and cleared $1,300. Again going in debt, he bought 75 acres of land from John E. Astin at a cost of $9,000, paying $2,000 of it in cash which he had made and cleared. He still kept the farm he was renting from Hill Wilson, and leased the place he had bought to Tony Genaro for two years. He next bought 110 acres from Frank Cangelosi, a part of the John E. Astin place, for $13,000 and paid $6,000 in cash. Two years ago Mr. Varisco bought 235 acres, 199 from Mr. Miller and 36 from Mrs. Dell Hearne, and after the first crop he paid all that was due on the place in cash.

Has Moderate Wealth. Tony Varisco now owns 420 acres, has a fine farm home that was once the "big house" on the John Astin Plantation, and recently improved and remodeled at a cost of $800; has fine farm buildings, 18 head of mules, horses and dairy cows, too; a half interest in the cotton gin at Steele's Store worth $10,000; a store building in that vicinity worth more than $1,000, and money in the bank. He also owns his old farm home in Sicily which is managed by a brother.

That one who came to this country with only a moderate education, no money to speak of, and without knowledge of the English language, has achieved so well, indicates that opportunity to carve success is not lacking in this land to one who has the desire to work and the ambition, Mrs. T. J. Postell, Center; tion to succeed.

RAILROAD OFFICIALS EXTENDING AID TO FARMERS ON HOPPERS

Poison for grasshoppers will be distributed over the right of way of the H. & T. C. Railroad through Grimes county, as well as the Santa Fe and I-G. N., it was determined Tuesday when officials of that road met with the C. of C. committee here. The H. & T. C. officials were not present at a meeting held last week but sent a message stating that they would be quite soon. That meeting was held yesterday and the officials showed a desire to assist the farmers insofar as they are able.

H. Slabetski, division engineer and an official from Ennis, also W. C. Lamb, road master, met with the directors.

The result of the meeting was a promise on the part of the officials to poison the right of way, using the bran mash formula recommended by R. R. Reppert, entomologist of A. and M. College. Messrs. W. B. Templeman and J. W. Brosig, who were present at the meeting, offered to have the poison distributed on the railroad property touching their respective farms, the railroad company bearing the expense, and the officials announced they would seek to make such an arrangement with other farmers along the route. They agreed, however, that the right of way would be treated with this insect poison at once as a means of assistance to agricultural interests.

The work of poisoning is already in operation over the lines of the Santa Fe and I-G. N. in this county and a portion of Brazos county. John D. Rogers instructed the Santa Fe force how to mix the formula and they have since been busy scattering the mash all the way from Clay Station to Yarbrough. The I-G. N. adopted the plan of having farmers along their line of road do the work adjacent to their property and it is said that the right of way is being so treated with the poison.

Business men and farmers are alike appreciative of the co-operative spirit manifested by the railroad officials. The farmers have been cleaning out their fields but could not destroy the pests on the railroad right of way. Now the railroad people have come to their assistance. —Navasota Examiner.

Easter Egg Hunt Big Success

It is estimated over sixteen hundred children, parents and friends gathered in the Caldwell pasture Saturday afternoon to enjoy the Easter egg hunt sponsored by the Bryan Lions and put over by the co-operation of the churches, schools, Sunday schools, business men of Bryan and the citizens of Brazos county combined. The success of the occasion was demonstrated by the response of the children and the evidences of enjoyment displayed on every hand.

Sometime before three o'clock in the afternoon cars began to arrive at the hour house filled with children from rural sections and it is believed that each of the twenty-nine schools in the county were represented.

At 3 o'clock the committee on transportation got busy and piloted the children to Caldwell's pasture where the fun began. The committee delegated to hide the eggs had done their duty and were waiting for the hunt to start. Plenty of ice water had been provided and the stage was all set for the race, for that was what it proved to be.

No set program had been arranged, but the children made a program of their own. Their anticipation and enthusiasm shown in their faces and actions and each heart seemed to be set on finding one or more of the prize eggs donated by the business men of Bryan. These numbered considerably more than one hundred.

Naturally the children began to mill like a herd of excited cattle, but the lions were on hand and soon had them working in order. Announcement was made by Lion R. L. Brown about the division of the field and the ages of the children to hunt in each. Immediately the children jumped the gun and started. Then it was that Lions Miller, Searcy, Fuller, Sholl, Cox, Erskine, Munson, Ratcliffe, Parks, and others, got busy and restored order. The children were then arranged according to ages in the proper locations, and began to chafe at the bits to be off once more, but were called to line up for a picture. This was taken and Lion J. Bryan Miller explained about prizes, etc., and introduced the president, Lion Searcy, to say a few words. He started—so did the children. However, his clear voice calling them back soon restored order, a short talk was made and the children were again placed in position and told to go. Well, go they did, and soon demonstrated that it had not been necessary to provide music for they provided the sweetest music ever heard by mortal ear, that of the laughter of happy children having the time of their life, and no doubt stories of this Easter hunt will be told by the fireside of many a home in after years when some of these children are reminiscing over the good times of early childhood.

Candy for Each One.

Of course some children found more eggs than others while a few found none, but the thoughtful Lions had provided for this by keeping back a few to make the unfortunate happy, while many thoughtful mothers as well as some thoughtful children who had secured many eggs divided with the unfortunate. Neither was this all. Another surprise had been provided either by thoughtful Lions or by Mother Nature for quite a number of small rabbits were captured by the children which added greatly to their delight.

Then came another surprise. When the children began to return from the search, tired but happy, they were told to line up and pass by a certain point where a bag of candy was given to each child while the unfortunate seeker after eggs was also given a few colored Easter eggs.

The Boy Scouts also played an important part in the Easter egg hunt by acting as patrols and rendered efficient services in their usual manner.

Now came the aftermath when mothers and children gathered in the shade of the trees and began showing their joy and happiness by animated conversation which continued as group after group wended their way toward the autos and trucks which conveyed them homeward to live over again the experiences of the day as they talked to loved ones, playmates and friends.

Yes, the Easter egg hunt was a success and is said by many who were present to be the biggest thing of its kind ever pulled off in Brazos county. However, conversation with any Lion will convince you that they do not claim all the credit, but attribute it to the co-operation of the spirit of the people of Bryan and Brazos county.

There being 400 eggs left from the Saturday afternoon county-wide Easter egg hunt sponsored by the Lions club, it was decided to remember the negro children also and a hunt was given for them on Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the open field northwest of the cemetery. About 150 were present. The committee from the negroes, which worked in conjunction with the Lion Club committee were Barney Goosby, Ed Scott, Dr. A. E. Thompson, Rev. Caraway, M. E. church; Rev. J. H. Hardeman, A. M. E. church; E. A. Kemp, principal negro school. Lions present were: President and Mrs. C. A. Searcy, Mr. and Mrs. J. Bryan Miller, and visitors, Miss Louise Weddington, Miss Kalphanna Searcy, S. C. Hoyle.

Knight Templar Easter Sunday Service

A packed house at the First Baptist church last night were delighted with the Knights Templar Easter service. Many people could not be accommodated and had to be turned away, so well was the structure filled. Special music was rendered by the choir, under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Ward. P. S. Park acted as Prelate in the absence of General H. B. Stoddard, who was unable to serve.

The sermon was delivered by Dr. Jno. A. Held, pastor of the church. His subject was "Faith in Terms of Service," and his text was "David served his generation by the will of God."

As a preface to his main theme, Dr. Held gave some very interesting and valuable statistics with regard to Masonry, its history and growth. He said that there were more than three million Masons in the United States today, over 130,000 of whom were in Texas; that Masonry had an honorable record for standing as the defender of freedom, lover of the pure and sustainer of religion and religious freedom.

Fifty-three signers of the Declaration of Independence were Masons, declared the speaker. The first president, vice president and secretary of war were Masons. Paul Revere was a Mason and it is believed that everyone whom he summoned on that memorable night were Masons. Of the Knights Templar there are over 400,000 members in the United States and of whom Texas has numbers 20,000 in 100 different places where there are gatherings for Easter services being held as we are gathered in this building here on this Sabbath night, Dr. Held said.

Then the pastor turned to his central theme and stated that every individual had a three-fold motive which actuated him in his life plans. The first was "egoism," which begins and ends with self. A man's measurements and estimates of life and be seen by the things in which they engage and the things that they like. Some men measure life by the amount of money they amass; others by the amount of pleasure they have; while still others come to recognize life's challenge in its noblest and finest. It reminds one of Kipling when he warned, in his famous "Recessional"—"Lest We Forget."

The second phase, the speaker said was "altruism." David was loved by his generation because he served them. Altruism is that motive from which have come many of the world's chiefest and highest blessings; the liberties that are dear to us; our institutions that have been planted by great sacrifices; our benevolent orders and our charities. Well has Lowell said "They are slaves most base whose love of right is for themselves and not for all the race."

"David served by the will of God. This give us the third motive: 'Seeking the Will of God,' and as we shall be actuated by this motive, we shall not only bless God but shall bless humanity." The speaker closed by quoting two stanzas of "The House by the Side of the Road," by Sam Walter Foss.

The benediction was pronounced by Rev. R. L. Brown, pastor of the Baptist church at College Station.

BRAZOS COUNTY BOYS AND GIRLS CLUB DEPARTMENT

Club Notes and Farm News by County Agent C. L. Beason

Optimism On Weather.

There is nothing that bespeaks the quality of a people more than their fortitude and expressions of optimism and faith during troublous times, or when the husbandman sees but little promise of reward for the work of his hands. Certainly our Brazos county farmers meet this high ideal. When Jupiter Pluvius has failed for night on to a year to slake the thirst of Mother Earth, it would seem natural for farmers to murmur because of the prolonged drought. But, instead, we hear them speaking words of optimism. Frank Weinzel of Rock Prairie and Colonel A. D. Jackson have already been predicting rain, and last Saturday John Dowling was heard telling his neighbors that it is going to rain in plenty of time for the crops. Rev. J. W. Handy has been reading the almanac and he says it speaks of rain. Gentlemen, you are manifesting a fine spirit. Be the conditions what they may, let's sit steady in the boat. We cannot afford to abandon the old ship of agriculture because perchance it may leave on the bar. Rest assured the tide will come and bear her away from storm and bar. Brother Handy, read that almanac again and pass down the line some news, dripping wet. Save the reputation of two good men—Jackson and Weinzel.

Good Use of Prize Money.

County Agent George E. Adams of Gregg county advises that Tylon Club, one of the district winners in the Holland thousand dollar prize, has used the $100 district prize won in the purchase of ten Poland China pigs to be distributed among Gregg county club members. Perhaps no better use could have been made of the money than to restock the farms of Gregg county with good brood sows.

Borderbrook A Beauty Spot.

Borderbrook Farm, between Bryan and College offers a striking example of what intelligent effort may accomplish in transforming an ugly waste into a beauty spot yielding profit and pleasure to the investor. Farmers passing this way might take note that it was due to thorough and early preparation of seed bed that made possible a good stand of cotton right in the midst of the drought, just such as others were suffering from.

East Texas Wonderfull.

Making a trip over the I-G. N. Railway from Hearne to Longview, or other East Texas points, one can not but be impressed with the wonderful possibilities of that East Texas country, and yet, the hundreds of gully-scarred hills and rapid bleaching of soil remind the observer that the husbandmen of this potentially great section of our state have not complied, so far as agriculture is concerned, with the Biblical injunction, "Have dominion."

Hear Schlafly of Illinois.

Every poultry raiser in Brazos county should take advantage of the opportunity to hear H. J. Schlafly, president of the Great Eight Poultry Farm, Carlyle, Illinois, at the Chamber of Commerce next Saturday at 2 p. m. We need to get a vision that success in the poultry industry, as in everything else, can come only when so-called scientific methods are directed by keen business insight and foresight. Scientific methods without business principles will get us nowhere. Business ability is in too great a demand to waste its time in any other way than the scientific plan, which, after all, is only the common sense way. Mr. Schlafly will have a message that should prove helpful to every poultry raiser in Brazos county. Remember the time, 2 p. m. Saturday.

Roads Will Solve the Problem.

The excess products of the farm would be worthless without markets. Markets are no nearer the farm than the condition of the public roads leading to the markets. We may not always find our markets just what we would like for them to be. The reasons are too many to be discussed here, but Brazos county farmers should feel proud of the fact that our public roads are being put in such fine shape, and doubtless at less cost to the taxpayers than similar work being done in other counties, that the local market is easily accessible any time of the year. Our Commissioners' Court is to be congratulated on the fine road work being done in Brazos county.

Compliment To Edge Club.

One of the greatest compliments that could have been paid the Edge Blue Ribbon Forty Club was for it to be declared ineligible to compete for the state championship this year. If we were the Edge Blue Ribbon Forty we would put forth the greatest effort of our life to make the record this year far above all in the past. Other Brazos county clubs courted a contest with Edge, but it seems those from over the state were afraid of the gaves.

Poultry Entries Invited.

County Agent R. B. Ewing of Robertson county invites Brazos county poultry raisers to bring, or send exhibits to the Calvert poultry show on April 25. This is a fine opportunity for our poultry raisers to show Robertson county people the quality of birds we produce in Brazos. Fix up a trio at least and send them to the Calvert show.
